"For many of us in the EU bubble, we fail to recognise that engagement with Europe and the EU – especially amongst disadvantaged young people – is extremely low.

Europe through young Eyes: Exchange, Explore, Exhibit (Europe3E) is demonstrating how non-formal methods of engagement, particularly through photography, can ensure that the voices of those who are most remote from the European Union are being heard."

Europe3E aims to empower young people from disadvantaged backgrounds to be able to express their opinions and questions about Europe and the European Union.

Through non-informal teaching methods, Europe3E engages with its participants on the EU and political awareness, alongside developing their leadership, entrepreneurship and communications skills.

The project is also open to youth workers, assisting them in the design of EU-focussed programmes and how to create an enriching environment to encourage individual and group learning.

Europe3E is bridging the gap between the EU and its "most remote" young citizens.
