VOICEIT

GREECE, CYPRUS, ITALY

"Taking part in the Voicelt project has influenced the way I view my personal life as an individual and my personal life as part of the LGBTQI+ community.

I have developed a sense of who I am, my sexual identity and my self-worth - encouraging me to make sure my voice is heard on a political level.

Through sharing my life experiences with other LGBTQI+ people, I have also realised the importance of social connectedness and social solidarity."

Voicelt, led by KMOP: Social Action and Innovation Centre, aims to contribute towards the inclusion of LGBTQI+ people in the political decision making processes in Greece, Cyprus and Italy - alongside raising awareness about the misconceptions surrounding LGBTQI+ rights and experiences.

Through research, multi-actor cooperation, hosting LGBTQI+ Rights Information Seminars and launching an awareness raising campaign, Voicelt has created an action plan to promote change towards an inclusive society.

One of the most important impacts of this action plan is the potential role it will play in recommending a more inclusive and LGBTQI+-friendly educational system.
